B: An estimated 53 million Americans smoke. Smokers are at risk of contracting heart disease, cancer, or emphysema (lung disease). The chief surgeon reports that 30 percent of all cancer deaths are related to smoking. Cigarette packs now contain a warning that reads: "The chief surgeon has determined that smoking cigarettes is dangerous to your health." The smoke exhaled by smokers can also harm nonsmokers. For non-smoking accommodations, airlines and many restaurants only allow smoking in certain areas and prohibit smoking in designated areas. Smokers are usually aware of the dangers of smoking and would like to quit smoking. However, it is very difficult to quit smoking.... Some doctors suggest going into a "cold turkey", that is, to stop completely. Other doctors may recommend going to special clinics or undergoing hypnosis in order to gradually learn to get rid of this habit. Many people regret starting smoking because it is difficult to quit smoking.
